DETAILED ACTION

The amendment filed 10/6/05 and the remarks filed 9/22/05 have been acknowledged and entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

- 1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:
 - The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
- The rejection under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, stated in paper No.
 081705 has been withdrawn in view of applicant's amendment.
- 3. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:
 - The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.
- 4. Claims 1-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The specification, as originally filed, does not provide support for "in intimate contact with an eye" as is now claimed in claims 1, 7, 12, and 17.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

- 5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:
 - (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 1-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Shoup (4,123,098).

Shoup teaches a contact lens placement instrument. The reference also teaches in placing the soft contact lens on a person's eye, the insertion device 10 is also held with one hand around the flexible bulb 12 and the bulb 12 is squeezed slightly to provide suction to grip the back surface portion of the soft contact lens which is usually picked off a person's hand after rinsing with a saline solution. The reference discloses the placement instrument as claimed. The reference also teaches releasing the contact lens with a puff of air as claimed. See figs. 1-4, col. 2, line 38-col. 4, line 26, and the claims.

The reference does not teach the dipping steps as claimed.

It would have been obvious for one skilled in the art to use the step of dipping the contact lens in the cleaning solution before placing said contact lens in the eye because it is well known in the art. See col. 4, lines17-19. It would have been obvious for one skilled in the art to use the step of dipping the contact lens in cleaning solution repeatedly to enhance the cleaning and because it is well known in the art. The contact lens as claimed is well known in the art.

This rejection stated in paper No. 081705 is maintained.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments filed 9/22/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. In response to applicant's argument that the references fail to show certain features of applicant's invention, it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies

(i.e., (in the present invention in Figs. 1, 4, 5, and 6, the tip of the contact lens tool is considerably smaller in diameter than the contact lens diameter which is critically necessary for rinsing the contact lens while it is being held by the contact lens tool. As disclosed in Fig. 5 the tip of the contact lens tool is not submerged in the solution when the contact lens is dipped in the solution), the present invention has a cup of only 4-6 mm in diameter to allow for vision around the cup and to prevent any suction ability for safety reasons) are not recited in the rejected claim(s). Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

It is not clear if the applicant uses the same instrument (thumb and finger) for gripping and placing the contact lens (claims 1, 7, 12, and 17).

Conclusion

8. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
